

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Attention: Heads & Principals of Primary & Secondary Schools in Nigeria,

We wish to introduce GivFree Africa a non-governmental organization currently driving the initiative to plant 270 million trees across Africa come 2022 tagged #GivTree2Schools.

The project is robust and intending to help fulfil the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG 7), we have begun, and have successfully kicked off the initiative in selected schools in Nigeria where your school stands to play an active role by becoming part of this great initiative.

We currently have our GivFree African Volunteer s (GAV) members who are at the forefront of executing the Givtree2school's Africa project in Nigeria by extension in Africa.

It's our utmost goal to see your school become part of this in a bid to help actualize SDG goals seven of conserving what makes our environment thick and to provide fruits trees for school children within their local community.

Let us once again draw your attention to the fact that we have thousands of volunteers already making this dream a reality. We only crave your indulgence to key in and make your school become part of a history-making event.

We respect the values and orientation taught within the classroom one you bring with so much passion when you teach. This in no small measure has helped to turn out a responsible student who has taken up the responsibility of giving back to the school that once taught them. Nothing makes the mind gladder than seeing young lads volunteer in their hundreds across major schools in Nigeria to participate in an activity that would outlive them and make a lasting impression within their community at large.

Having outlined what we stand for and represent, we would be glad if you allow us to include your school on the list of our project executors by recruiting more volunteers who would, in the long run, drive this project. No doubt, we strongly
